

BIOGRAPHY RESOURCES

SCHOOL DATABASES iTech Prep Library Website

- Under "Reference" click on
- Click "Student"
- Click "Inventors" under the "Biography Center" section
- Your search has begun! You can modify the search parameters by adjusting options on the left-hand toolbar (ex: area of work, gender, time period, etc.)

PUBLIC LIBRARY DATABASES

FORT VANCOUVER EDUCATOR LIBRARY CARD WILL ALLOW STUDENT ACCESS TO DATABASES

14 digit number students will need to enter: 23264009289633

Science

(Each database is hyperlinked- hold down the "Ctrl" key & click on blue wording)

Gale Homework Page

Access all the homework related databases and resources FVRL has to offer in one place

- Select the biography icon, , once you are in the Gale Database
- Enter the school's library card number
- Search by "occupation" and type "scientist" into the search field
- Browse scientists and choose your favorite!

Science in Context

Seek contextual information on hundreds of today's most significant science topics. Read authoritative reference content, full-text magazines, academic journals, news articles, experiments, images, videos, audio files and links to vetted websites.

- Enter the school's library card number
- Under the "Biographies" section click "view all"
- Browse scientists and choose your favorite!

Science Reference Center

Research a topic with full-text science encyclopedias, reference books, magazines, and other sources. Topics covered include biology, chemistry, earth and space science, environmental science, health and medicine, life science, physics, technology and wildlife.

- Click the "Scientists" icon
- Browse scientists and choose your favorite!

OTHER WEBSITES

<http://www.biography.com/>

A division of A&E Network, Biography.com is specifically for biographical information on various individual. You can search for a specific author to obtain information on them.

<http://www.astr.ua.edu/4000WS/>

Focuses primarily on pre-twentieth century women in the science and technology fields and includes a good reference list for further research.

<https://webfiles.uci.edu/mcbrown/display/women.html>

The Index of African American Scientists is a sub-collection of "The Faces of Science: African Americans in the Sciences," resource. The index is broken down into the different science research areas.

<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/aso/databank/bioindex.html>

This companion site to a Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) program from 1998 presents an overview of developments in science and technology during the 20th century.

<http://galileo.rice.edu/Catalog/New/search1.html>

A [searchable] collection of 631 detailed biographies on members of the scientific community during the 16th and 17th centuries with vital facts about each individual and their contributions to science.