

Movie Making/IB Film

Course Description: Students will explore the three phases of the production process; pre-production, production and post-production. They will write a script in screenplay format, shoot and edit footage using cinematographic techniques and critique their own work as well as view and critique films of different genres.

Instructional Philosophy: Students will be given challenging real-world projects and assignments typical of the movie industry. High quality work is expected and students will be given opportunities to redo work until it meets standards specified during instruction. Classroom activities will include viewing movies, reading, research, projects and problem solving. Major projects will be presented to the class and in some situations to video professionals. Students will often work in teams, but will be expected to complete individual assignments in relation to the team's work.

Course Goals:

1. Demonstrate the effective use of oral, written and visual communication and recognize and develop technical skills in: camera operation and technique, the use of audio, editing, lighting and scriptwriting.
