

Washington's Walking School Bus

Students walk to their designated “bus stops” and wait for a group of students, volunteers and parents to “pick them up.” Together the group walks to school.

The walking school bus is a program designed to help students get to school safely and arrive on time. By getting to school earlier more students can attend breakfast before class.

There are two designated routes, one leaving from K Street and 33rd Street at and another route at Y Street and 33rd Street. The routes meet at S Street and walk to school.

To volunteer or join the walking school bus contact Denisse Haney, 313-3074.
